Wheat.

Farmers were awful blue concerning their wheat crop, but it is estimated that there will be a 90 per cent. yield. One farmer in another county thinks his will yield at least fifty bushels to the acre.

CHILDREN'S DAY

The Christian Sunday School Observe It In a Delightful Way.

Children's Day was observed by the members of the Christian Sunday School on Sunday. The "chief women not a few" had taken the matter in hand and prepared for the pleasure of the School a beautiful program. This was carried out at the Sunday School hour and so large a number of visitors came in, to enjoy the exercises, with the children that it was deemed well to repeat them at night, so the pastor gave way and the "chief women" with their beautiful little ones took possession of the audience room.
The crowd that came to meet them could not be accommodated with seats, and much to the regret of those in charge, many had to be turned away. The contribution for Missions at the morning service was liberal and was supplemented by quite a neat sum in the evening. The songs were beautiful, the recitations in good taste and the pastor's talk a delightful one, so that those who came were amply repaid.

Attention Candidates.

At a meeting of the Montgomery County Democratic Committee held on Saturday last, the following order was made: Candidates will notice that this order does not effect the standing of those who have become of age since last registration day, but that they will have to look out for those voters who have only lately attained their majority.

Whereas the regular Election Law provides for a registration of voters in cities of the fourth class, but it appearing that the Primary Election Law does not provide any means of registration of such persons as become qualified voters in such cities after the regular registration day to enable voters to register and vote in the Primary election, or for transfers of such as may remove from one precinct to another; therefore be it Resolved, That the officers of the Primary election to be held in this county on June 14th, in the city of Mt.

Sterling, Ky., shall permit all known Democrats who have become qualified voters in any precinct in the city of Mt. Sterling since the last November election, and such Democrats as may have been qualified voters then and registered as such but have removed from one precinct to another and shall possess all the other qualifications of a voter, to be specially registered and vote at said Primary election.

Graded School Closing Exercises.

You just ought to have been there.
We can't tell it to you as it was. The Opera House had a crowd to witness the closing entertainment of this popular school of which the people of Mt.
Sterling are proud. They were highly entertained. The children, every one of them, knew their part, and rendered them far better than we have seen professionals on the stage. Stage work was not the part the teachers wished to make most prominent, and yet this came to them naturally. Their training from kindergarten up to the highest grade was faultless, and the teachers deserved the many congratulations which they received.

From a statement that comes from Washington, D. C., it appears that the Government is indebted to the heirs of Jacob De-Haven for $4,000,000, which is an original loan of $450,000 and accrued interest. W. A. DeHaven, of this city, is one of the heirs of Jacob DeHaven, being a great-grandson.

The entertainment of the Public School at the Opera House last Thursday evening was a financial success. Their gross receipts amounted to $96, which will be used in adding to the Public School library.

Republicans are holding frequent meetings and will put up their best fight at the November election.

THE PRIMARY.

A SPLENDID HORSE
TO BE GIVEN AWAY.

An Unprecedented Offer to the Subscribers of THE ADVOCATE.

OUR PLAN.

We have made arrangements to offer to the reader of THE ADVOCATE, who shall guess the nominee of the Democratic Primary, June 14, in each race, a splendid buggy horse.

This splendid animal is out of an Indian Chief mare, and is a beautiful bay, five-years-old, 15½ hand high, with fine style and action. A fine roadster and will show for himself on the streets of Mt. Sterling Court Day, at 11 a. m. and at 3 p. m. This is a prize well worth getting.

Terms of The Guessing.

Send 25 cents for three months' subscription to the ADVOCATE and fill out the coupon, which will be registered and a faithful account kept.
You get the paper for three months and you may be the person to whom a present will be made of the horse.

This is no gambling scheme. You pay for what you get, and we, in order to induce you to help us extend our subscription list, have secured a splendid roadster to give away to some one. Cut the coupon out and write in the blank spaces left for the purpose the name of your favorite for each position. Enclose this with 25 cents for three months' subscription to the ADVOCATE, signing your own name in the blank left for the voter.

The names of the voters will be registered as received, and the person guessing the nominees first will be entitled to the horse. Bulletins will be put out giving names of candidates with highest number of guesses, and the names of the candidates receiving highest number of guesses will be published in each issue of the Advocate between now and June 14.

CHAUTAUQUA '94.

LECTURES OF THE EIGHTH AN-NUAL SESSION.

A Brilliant and Attractive Programme With Something to Interest One and All.

A SEMI-OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

The eighth annual session of the Kentucky Chautauqua will be held in its beautiful home in Woodland Park, Lexington, Ky., July 3 to 13. The most brilliant and attractive programme ever offered to the patrons of this assembly will be presented this year. It has been prepared with great care by the successful and well known Chautauqua worker, Dr. W. L.
Davidson, who for the third year in succession is the Superintendent of Instruction at the Kentucky Chautauqua. Eleven days will be crowded full of the best things genius can devise or money procure. Recreation and profit have been happily combined at minimum cost. There will be brilliant lectures, helpful schools, superb music and a wealth of novel entertainments.

Among the rare and novel entertainments may be mentioned Fred Emerson Brooks, the celebrated California poet; S. M. Spedon, the lightning crayon artist and caricaturist; Frederick Losey, the renowned impersonator in "Oliver Twist," faithfully assuming all the characters; C. E.
Bolton, in superb stereopticon lectures; Starling R. Marshall, in scenes from "The Bells," in costume; Miss Marguerite Ingels and Miss Katherine Musselman, in readings.

On the lecture platform is a perfect wealth of well known names. Joseph Cook, easily the foremost lecture of this country; the poet and wit, Chaplain John H. Lozier; the brilliant and witty Dr. George Thomas Dowling; the fascinating literary critic, Col.
Homer B. Sprague; the most spontaneous wit of the South, Prof. Charles Lane; the brilliant elocutionist and Delsartean, Prof. E. B. Warman, and the golden mouthed Kentuckian, George W. Bain.

Fourth of July will be a great and memorable day. All Kentucky will be there. There will be great orations by the unique and ever popular ex-Governor Bob Taylor, and also, it is hoped, by the pride of the South, Georgia's distinguished Senator, Gen.
John B. Gordon. At night there will be a splendid concert, followed by the most brilliant display of fire works ever given in Lexington.

There will be special days with low rates on all the railroads. July 12 will be College Day, when orators from leading Kentucky colleges will compete for the $100 in prizes.

Each day is a day you cannot afford to miss. A full season ticket, including everything, costs only $3, and a full day ticket is only 40 cents. Excursion rates on all railroads. Cheap boarding in Lexington hotels and homes. Tenting privileges may be had on the grounds at low rates.

The beautiful detailed illustrated programme is now ready to be mailed.
This with all other information may be secured by addressing Charles Scott, general business manager, Lexington, Ky.
